1. The Yugoslav Minister of Reconstruction held a conference in Zagreb on 1 March 1947, which was attended by representatives of professional bodies and technical trades associations.

2. During the conference the Minister stated that a census had been taken of the number of engineers, architects and other technical experts available in Yugoslavia. The census revealed the following figures:

Republic	Number Available	Number Required
Serbia	700	480
Croatia	510	280
Slovenia	259	160
Bosnia-Herzegovina	73	240
Macedonia	30	100
Montenegro	25	55

The number of technicians and specialists is believed to be the number required over and above the available number.
